Summer's not over yet - Be prepared: Lord Mayor

We can't prevent wild weather in Brisbane, but being prepared can make all the difference.

We've had an unseasonably wet November and December and when the ground is saturated, the possibility of flash flooding increases.

February is typically Brisbane's wettest month and we can't be complacent when it comes to preparing our homes.

I encourage everyone to register for the free Brisbane Severe Weather Alerts and collect free sandbags at our 5 depots across Darra, Morningside, Newmarket, Zillmere and Lota, so you can be ready for whatever comes next.

We will continue to prepare our city for weather events all year round, so that residents can stay safer in our suburbs.

Lord Mayor, Adrian Schinner

100 years of Sherwood Arboretum

Happy anniversary to the Sherwood Arboretum, which officially opened on World Forestry Day 21 March 1925, to house and preserve Australian native trees.

The heritage-listed arboretum is an inviting space to unwind, as well as a place for discovery and learning. It's home to approximately 1,100 trees representing 250 species over 15 hectares.

The arboretum features accessible paths, picnic areas, barbecues and taps, a river boardwalk and pontoon, toilets and car parking. There's also an upgraded nature-inspired play area under the fig trees.

Join the centenary celebrations on Sunday 23 March. Visit our website and search 'Sherwood Arboretum' for more information.

A new way to move in 2025

This year, Brisbane will experience the largest uplift to our bus network in over a decade.

We're introducing Brisbane's New Bus Network that will be complemented by Brisbane Metro services.

This is all part of our plan to deliver more connected and reliable public transport, getting you where you need to go at the times you want to travel.

Brisbane Metro is here to stay, with the Metro 2 service now operating between UQ Lakes and the Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital.

Scan the QR code to learn more about what Brisbane's New Bus Network means for you.

Kangaroo Point Bridge a big win for Brisbane

Since opening last December, Kangaroo Point Bridge has quickly become one of Brisbane's well-loved icons, with residents and visitors making the most of this spectacular addition to our city over summer.

The 460-metre-long bridge has made it easier and quicker than ever to walk or ride between Kangaroo Point, inner-east suburbs and the CBD, and take in stunning views of the river and city skyline.

Stay tuned for news about opening dates for the bridge's 2 unique dining venues - Stilts Dining, an above-water restaurant and bar, and Mulga Bill's, a riverside cafe at the city landing.

Home stretch for Moggill Road

The finish line is in sight for upgrade works on one of the busiest road corridors in the western suburbs.

We've been hard at work putting the finishing touches on the Moggill Road Corridor Upgrade Project, including installing new kerbs and pavement, road asphaltting and landscaping.

Traffic is flowing freely in both directions along Moggill Road, with the new overpass helping traffic from Coonan Street merge more efficiently and safely than the previous roundabout.

New pathways and pedestrian activated signals have increased safety for people walking, riding or scooting through Indooroopilly.

It's all part of our commitment to building better roads to get you home sooner and safer.

Progress on Safer Schools

Our first Safer Schools Precincts program is underway in Kedron, with 3 more precincts to follow.

Your feedback about living in and moving around the suburb - particularly during busy school drop-offs and pick-ups - helps us shape a plan to improve safety, ease congestion and enhance travel options.

Improvements will be tailored to each community and could include pathway upgrades, pedestrian crossings, intersection improvements, better signage and safer speeds.

The next Safer School Precincts program will be rolled out in Mansfield.

For more information, visit our website and search 'Safer School Precincts'.

Protecting our koalas

We've partnered with the University of Queensland (UQ) to protect koalas through our new Building Resilient Koala Populations project.

The project will focus on assessing koalas in our Bayside Parklands reserve, Chandler, and the Brisbane Koala Bushlands, Burbank.

Stage one of the project aims to remove koala chlamydia as much as possible from the koala population in these reserves by surveying and testing for this disease. If koalas test positive, they will receive treatment at a wildlife hospital.

Koalas without chlamydia will be given a vaccine, fitted with a GPS collar and released back into the reserves.

Council has also released 12 koalas into Pooh Corner, which are now living across the area and Wacol Bushlands.

For more information, visit our website and search 'koala project'.

More fun, less sun for Brisbane playgrounds

This year, we are installing shade sails above 34 more playgrounds, keeping our littlest residents sun safe, so play can last longer all year.

Installation has started at 6 playgrounds in Sandgate, McDowall, Virginia, Camp Hill and Manly West.

This is the third and final round of shade sail installations as part of the Sun Safe Suburban Playgrounds program, taking the total number of sun safe playgrounds to 150.

More than 120 shade trees have been planted near 19 playgrounds across the city - with more to come.

Please check details and confirm with organisers that events are still going ahead before you make plans.

Check out the Brisbane app for more event listings!
