

Use of Council Parks: Community Guideline

(Version 4 – Updated July 2023)

Dedicated to a better Brisbane

Overview

Brisbane's parks provide recreational, ecological, visual, cultural heritage and other open space values that make Brisbane liveable and sustainable.

Brisbane City Council (Council) cares for and manages more than 2160 parks for residents and visitors to enjoy and share in a friendly and safe environment. Council has a responsibility to protect these parks, ensure their fair use and accessibility, and provide clear and consistent information for people wanting to use parks.

The Public Land and Council Assets Local Law 2014 (PLACA) provides for the management and regulation of activities in parks to promote safe use and enjoyment of parks, optimise the benefits derived from parks, and protect, conserve and manage all park assets.

While most activities in parks will not need the consent of Council, some activities do require a park use consent or are otherwise restricted or prohibited because of their potential to affect the use or operation of the park, park users or adjoining properties.

Activities requiring a park use consent will only incur a park use fee if they involve exclusive use of a park booking site or some commercial uses. All other consents will be free.

Activities requiring consent

A park use consent is required for activities in parks that meet one or more of the following consent criteria:

1. commercial activities including activities with a commercial element
2. activities involving access to and use of a Council power source or other utility service
3. activities involving animals, other than domestic pets
4. distributing any handbill, notice, literature or similar promotional material
5. affixing or posting any bill or placard
6. erecting or placing any temporary structure covering an area of more than 15 m²
7. activities involving significant numbers of participants and/or that have the potential to:
 - a. damage the park
 - b. adversely affect adjoining property owners and occupiers
 - c. effectively exclude other people from, or negatively affect, the reasonable enjoyment of the park by other users
8. activities requiring exclusive use of a park area, such as a park booking site.

Applications for Council consent can be made:

- by searching for 'park consent' on Council website www.brisbane.qld.gov.au
